Pastor's Easter Message

When I was still a seminary student and serving my vicarage internship year in New Jersey, there was a particularly hard winter and late spring thaw. The church where I was serving had repaved their parking lot the previous summer, and accidentally paved over part of a flower bed. Shortly before Easter, with icy snow still covering the ground, the flowers which had been planted in that bed came bursting up again.

It was quite a sight to see these bright spring flowers, scattered like beautiful jewels amidst the sparkling snow. Even more amazing was that they came up not only through six or more inches of snow and ice, they first penetrated at least that much frozen earth and hard black asphalt.

The traditional Easter lily and other spring flowers are a very meaningful symbol for the real significance of Easter. Just as these dormant plants break through the ground in glorious bloom, Jesus Christ rose from the tomb on Easter morn, and all who die in Christ will also rise on the Last Day to eternal life.

You probably have, and sometime in the future will once again, watch as a dear loved one's body is lowered into a grave. The lifeless body that we lay to rest is like a dormant seed, planted in the ground. The Easter lily and other spring flowers are a symbol not only of Christ's resurrection but of your hope that you and your loved ones who are asleep in Jesus will rise with him to eternal life. As the Apostle Paul says in 2 Corinthians 4:14, "We know that He who raised the Lord Jesus from the dead will also raise us with Jesus."

Spring Promise

Tender buds on shrub and tree

Boast of Spring's bright victory

Dormant seeds beneath earth's floor

Leap from darkness through life's door

The world has changed its winter scene

To fertile fields with glint of green,

Blossoms burst to meet the sun—

The glad awakening has begun!

Somewhere beneath Death's winter sleep

Mortals too will wake from the deep—

For Christ arose that He would bring

His promise of eternal spring!

Iris W. Bray

As you mourn departed loved ones, or contemplate your own death, take comfort in the Lord's promise, as we confess in the Creeds, of "the forgiveness of sins, the resurrection of the body, and the life everlasting," looking forward in faith and hope to "the resurrection of the dead and the life of the world to come."

Lutheran Outreach Begins in Turkey

Lutheran Hour Ministries has recently begun work in the Republic of Turkey, reaching out in new ways in a land that first heard the Gospel during the time of Paul and was the setting for many events and epistles of the New Testament.

Situated north of Syria and Iraq and east of Greece and Bulgaria, Turkey is part of western Asia but has close ties to both Europe and the Middle East. In the first century, the apostle Paul took the Gospel to the region, which was then called Asia, or Asia Minor. In the fourth century, one of its cities, Byzantium, was dubbed the capital of the Roman Empire by the Christian emperor Constantine. In the fifteenth century, the country was annexed by the Islamic Ottoman Empire.

Today, although Islam is one of the dominant influences in Turkish culture, the country's society also reflects a strong tradition of secularism that was born when the republic was established in the early 20th century. While 99.8 percent of Turkey's 80 million people are registered as Muslims, just 10 to 15 percent actively practice Islam. An estimated 70 to 80 percent of Turkey's people are secular, non-religious.

"Some have characterized Turkey as the world's largest unreached people group," says Rev. Peter Kirby, LHM Area Director for Europe and Central Asia—"and now is a very good time to expand outreach in Turkey, because in addition to its large unreached population, there seems to be a spiritual craving there that will help set the stage for spiritual success."

Current conditions offer the prospect for getting a good foothold early on, says Kirby. "The SAT-7 Turk satellite network and two radio networks have expressed a willingness to work with us in creating Turkish-language programming. Also, the publisher of a Christian thought magazine called Miras (Heritage) has presented the possibility of partnering to educate Turks about the country's Christian roots. Finally, Lutheran congregations in Turkey's three largest cities could be a great help in promoting LHM materials and connecting the ministry to people in communities.

"One key to a strong start," Kirby says, "will be finding local staff that can catch a vision for what we are trying to do. We have contracted with a member of our team in Kazakhstan to spend a year recruiting and developing a work group and helping us get up and running.

"It's reasonable to anticipate some resistance," Kirby cautions. "For example, public witness is discouraged. But considering everything we've seen, along with the power and love of our God, we're optimistic—and excited—about this new opportunity."

Watch for more exciting news about Gospel outreach in Turkey, and pray for the Holy Spirit's guidance and for the safety of believers who share the Good News wherever people need desperately to hear it.

Nursing Home Services April 17

You are invited to help Trinity provide brief worship services for nursing home residents at North Point and Medical Lodge on April 17. The simple services are approximately 20 minutes in length at each home. We begin at 1:30pm at North Point and then go to Medical Lodge for the second service.

The residents really enjoy these services, especially singing their favorite hymns. It's great to have church members there to greet the residents and sing along. We have a faithful few members who help but we could use your help too!

Our other nursing home services scheduled for 2016 are:

- ✘ May 22—Country Club Estates and Vintage Park
- ✘ June 19—North Point and Medical Lodge
- ✘ July 24—Country Club Estates and Vintage Park
- ✘ August 28—North Point and Medical Lodge
- ✘ October 2—Country Club Estates and Vintage Park
- ✘ November 6—North Point and Medical Lodge
- ✘ December 11—North Point and Medical Lodge

In Finland New Hymnals for Easter

As we joyfully sang “Jesus Christ Is Ris’n Today” on Easter, our voices joined Lutheran brothers and sisters in Finland, who were worshipping using new hymnals provided by the Lutheran Heritage Foundation.

An LHF representative preached at Trinity and gave a presentation about their work for our Mission Sunday last fall, and the Trinity Foundation gave LHF a generous contribution on behalf of the congregation.

“We need three books on the way to Heaven,” said Rev. Juhana Pohjola, dean of the Evangelical Lutheran Mission Diocese of Finland (ELMDF). “The Bible, the Catechism and a hymnal. The Biblical message and doctrinal content is expressed in hymns and liturgies. If you really want to know what a church actually teaches, sing their hymns and go through their prayers. The hymnal is the heartbeat of the Church!”

Though Finland has been officially Lutheran since the Reformation, and at one time was a very devout, conservative, Bible-believing nation, the state sponsored Lutheran denomination in Finland has become so compromised with liberalism to the point of persecuting those who faithfully hold to the teachings of the Lutheran Church. Thus, the ELMDF was formed as a refuge for those fleeing the false teachings of the state church.

“Since the official church [in Finland] has had a bad case of liberal influence [especially regarding women’s ordination and homosexuality], many good existing hymns were being diluted in their spiritual content,” said Rev. Risto Soramies, bishop of the ELMDF. “Our hymnal was a conscious effort to gather new good hymns . . . rescue some old, classical ones and translate or even retranslate good hymns from different languages.”

Lutheran Hymns was nine years in the making. In addition to 199 hymns new to Finnish Lutherans (including “Jesus Christ Is Ris’n Today”), the hymnal includes 150 Psalms, litanies, a large prayer section, orders for confession and absolution, and more.

“All our 32 congregations and five preaching stations are using this hymnal; it has been very well received,” said Rev. Pohjola. “It has been delightful to hear that so many are using the material at family devotions as well.”

To further unite ELMDF’s congregations with one another and with the Church of believers everywhere, Bishop Soramies believes common hymnody and liturgies are essential.

“Divine Service is something that is not our creation or invention,” Bishop Soramies said. “From the very early beginnings of the Church, God’s people have participated in all its riches. We do not think that we are wiser than Christian generations before us. Liturgy is the language of the Church that all generations can understand.”

Rev. Pohjola agrees. “These hymns make it concrete that we have the same faith and same hope that our fathers and mothers have had in past generations. We rejoice with the same hymns of the resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ!”

As they take a break for the summer—except for Confirmation Sunday—our thanks to all the choir members and accompanist Becky Stuzman for their faithful service and beautiful contributions to our worship!

Could you—individual, family, or group—serve snacks sometime after worship during 2016? Beginning in May, all Sundays for the rest of the year are still open. Consider signing up for special occasions such as birthdays or anniversaries. The sign-up sheet is on the table with the snacks. Our Generations group has generously agreed to provide and prepare the coffee and juice each week, so those signing up are only asked to provide some treat. Thanks to all those providing snacks for Coffee Hour!

"I'm ready for the Easter Egg Hunt."

Our thanks to Twin Valley 4-H for again sponsoring the annual Easter Egg Hunt at our church on March 26. Because of the rain it had to be held indoors, but there was still a great turnout, everyone pitched in and made the best of it, and the kids had a wonderful time! Thanks to Michelle Haley, Pam Peckman, and Anna Vogts for the pictures. More pictures are in the Photo Gallery on our church web site at www.trinitylcms.org/photos.
